

ANNUAL SPRING PLANT SALE

Saturday, June 2

10:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.

Come and bring all your neighbors. Rain or shine, June 2, starting at 10:00 a.m. we will have the lawn covered with flats of a huge variety of annuals, herbs and vegetables, all grown here in SE Massachusetts for your summer garden and patio pots. The canopy will be draped with beautiful hanging baskets, their flowers in peak condition to brighten your porch.

In front of the Memorial Garden there will be row upon row of perennials for spring, summer and fall, sun or shade. Our mix of the woodland wildflowers will bring the joy of discovery to every spring.

There will be a large selection of iris and daylilies, staples for early and late summer gardens. Take home a selection of phlox and beebalm, and you will be guaranteed a month of incredible pinks for summers to come.

Our many flowers native to New England and never poisoned will delight your bees and butterflies. We promise to tell you everything we know, including any cautionary tales, about the plants we sell, so come with a notebook as well as cash.

Come early for the best selection. However, if you are away Saturday, there will be a second chance at the leftovers on Sunday.
